

Global Inclusion: "Celebrate You. Celebrate Us"

Celebration Overview

How boring would it be if there were only one style of music, one way to dance, or one paint color for an artist to express themselves on canvas? How short sighted would it be to say there was only one architectural wonder in the world? Fortunately, the world is filled with people from rich diverse cultures and experiences that constantly provide unique expressions of beauty to the global community. In architecture, there are countless examples of exceptional architecture. This year, the City of Atlanta, a southern city rich in culture and diversity, will host the American Institute of Architects (AIA) Convention in May. The Atlanta Chapter of the National Organization of Minority Architects (NOMA), NOMA national and the AIA Diversity and Inclusion invites you to celebrate our diversity through a unique social gathering that brings together architecture, culture and the arts; entitled "Global Inclusion: Celebrate You, Celebrate Us". The event will celebrate the rich global diversity of design with presentations, special honors, cultural art exhibits, music and dance.

The Event

Last year at the 2014 National Convention in Chicago, the AIA Diversity Council partnered with the Hafele's Chicago showroom to introduce the Global Inclusion Reception which showcased diversity in architecture through a benefit networking event that was very successful. As one of the final acts of the week long 2015 AIA national convention that features keynote speaker Bill Clinton, this year's Global Inclusion event "Celebrate You, Celebrate Us" will act as an introduction for some, a reengagement for others and a celebration for all. The event will host one of the largest contingents of architects and designers representing various multicultural professional organizations around the country that advocate and celebrate the design profession. These organizations will share a few words about their mission. There will also be a presentation from the AIA Diversity / NOMA partnership and special recognition of AIA Georgia and National multi-cultural Fellows.

The event kicks off with a cocktail reception giving the attendees the opportunity to mix and mingle in a relaxed music filled atmosphere with heavy hors d'oeuvres and drinks. The night will feature a myriad of performances from a variety of art forms by equally diverse artists and genres. The proposed backdrop for this unique event will be the new Center for Civil and Human Rights, whose mission is to celebrate civil and human rights achievements. The Center located in the heart of downtown Atlanta, sits on Pemberton Place nestled between the Georgia Aquarium and the World of Coca-Cola museums serving as the perfect location.

Partnership Opportunities

The Atlanta Chapter of NOMA, NOMA national and AIA's Diversity and Inclusion partners for this once in a life time event in Downtown Atlanta. In 2014, the Global Inclusion Reception was a sell out for the AIA National Convention. The 2015 Convention is projected to host over 8,000 architects here in the City of Atlanta. This year, Global Inclusion: Celebrate You, Celebrate Us, will take the celebration of global diversity in design to a new level. NOMA Atlanta is looking to partner with corporate sponsors and major institutions to bring this unique event to the convention. There are several sponsorship opportunities available to support this exciting event.
